

It's Time to Break the Barriers

The shift to Value-Based Care is here. Curation Health can help.

100 health system and physician practice leaders share organizational challenges stemming from the pandemic and their efforts to adopt value-based care.

70% plan to move to value-based models¹

Barriers

Health System Technology

Staffing

What's impeding the shift:

Have the sufficient tech infrastructure

Lack the staff needed

Want to improve quality metrics

Curation Health is ready to accelerate your shift.

Health systems want to focus on care outside the walls of the hospital or practice, population health, quality and cost of care, patient engagement and attracting and retaining patients.

62%

want to improve patient experience metrics

52%

want to enhance community-based population health infrastructure

50%

want to expand use of digital delivery models

To learn more about how Curation Health supports value-based care adoption, accurate risk adjustment and quality program performance visit info@curationhealthcare.com.